

Beautiful Pianist Plays in Community Concert February 13

When Natalie Ryshna appears on the stage of the West Texas State administration building Feb. 13 in a Canyon Community Concert Association program she will probably be wearing a gown in which she has already had a great success.

The beautiful, young concert pianist has one superstition — that of wearing such a gown. But one can be fairly certain that the gown will not be threadbare, because Miss Ryshna's career has been liberally sprinkled with success.

Making her debut in New York City's Town Hall four seasons ago, Miss Ryshna delighted the New York critics in a 1955 recital. The critics said things such as these: "... an undisputed talent with a technique equal to art's demands ..." (New York Times); "... musical understanding of exciting potentialities ..." (New York Journal American); and "... she confirmed her gifts and showed that she has continued to develop ..." (New York Post).

Miss Ryshna's concert will be open only to members of the concert association, and admission will be by membership card only. The association holds an annual drive for members in the fall. The program will begin at 8 p. m.

The successful introduction into the professional world of music quickly plunged Miss Ryshna into a career which has carried her talent, youth and beauty to all parts of the United States, and this past fall on her first tour of Europe.

This season, in addition to her heavy winter schedule, she will play her third Town Hall recital in New York.

Born in Philadelphia to American parents of Polish-Ukrainian heritage, Miss Ryshna entered the music world through hard work and study. Her father was editor of "The Commercial Car Journal" for many years, and is now publisher of the world-famous trade magazine, "The Iron Age."

Neither of her parents had any musical training, but the home environment was congenial to music, literature and the arts in general and Miss Ryshna began her piano studies at the age of seven. Music was her chief interest but not the only one: All through grade and high school, she took part in dramatic productions, was Queen of the May, won the Citizenship Medal and was graduated valedictorian of her class at the age of 16.

When she was 12, Allison R.

Drake, dean of the Philadelphia conservatory of Music, heard her play and recognized her talents — and began to discipline her for a serious musical career. By the time she finished high school, he felt that she was ready to try for a scholarship with the renowned teacher, Mme. Olga Samaroff-Stokowski, who was then connected with both the Philadelphia Conservatory and the Juilliard School.

After winning the scholarship, Miss Ryshna went on to New York and a fellowship at the Juilliard Graduate School. When Mme. Samaroff died, Miss Ryshna continued her work with the distinguished concert artist, Sascha Gordinzki, who has been her musical adviser ever since.

A many-faceted character, Miss Ryshna is interested in people, reading, writing and art as well as music. She once became fascinated with politics and world history, and embarked on a study of the history of the world and the arts from the dawn of civilization to modern times.

At her family's present home in Connecticut, she has accumulated a trunkful of her own writings, "the unpublished works of Natalie Ryshna." She has a few published items, however, music criticisms written for the Westport, Conn., newspaper before she took the spotlight herself.

She lives in an apartment in New York City, on the upper East Side, with a sweeping view of the East River. There she indulges in two more of her hobbies, art and hi-fi recordings.

And there she keeps her ever-growing collection of gowns worn on successful concert occasions.

Scouts Take Over Government

A full slate of Scouts will take over the duties of city and county officials Saturday in observance of Boy Scout Week. The Scouts were elected to their offices last week, and will be sworn in at 8 a. m. in front of the courthouse.

Mayor for the day will be Roy Harris, who was unopposed in his candidacy. County judge will be Bill Phillips, who had Billy Walker and Tim White as opponents.

Other city officials will be James Boyd and Craig Hinger, commissioners; Bill Cornette, city secretary; Marvin Hutton, chief of police; Russell Farr, superintendent of streets and sanitation; Gordon Westray, assistant superintendent; Wayne Lindsey, superintendent of waterworks; Johnnie Sikes, assistant superintendent; Mike Callihan, fire chief; and Jan Potts, assistant city secretary.

County officials will be Randy Warren, commissioner precinct 1; Larry Moore, commissioner precinct 2; Larry Holman, commissioner precinct 3; Dick Utterbeck, commissioner precinct 4; Stephen Greiner, tax assessor - collector; Richie Brotherton, county clerk; Charles R. Nester, criminal district attorney; Davis Price, health officer; Bobby Haggard, treasurer; Harry Lisle, justice of the peace; Ronny Harris, sheriff; Ralph Kuhn, district clerk; and Wallace Busted, county agent.

Other elected officials will be Neal Lemmons, postmaster; Tom White, assistant postmaster; Bill Long, chamber of commerce manager; and Brad Gough, county ASC office manager.

To help in traffic enforcement during the Scout Day will be 10 scouts who will be policemen. They are Elo Myers, George Cox, Billy Walker, Bill Jarnagin, Bobby Dorris, Robert Hutton, Tim White, Russell Cook, Bartie Hoover and Emmett Pond.

The Scout policemen will be stationed around the square to watch for jaywalking, illegal parking, illegal U-turns and other violations.

The scouts will issue tickets for the violations, which will be returnable to Phillips, the Scout county judge. Fines for violations will be 50 cents.

Proceeds from the fines will be split, with 25 cents going to the March of Dimes and 25 cents to the troop funds.

The tickets will not be official in that the person given a ticket is not required to appear before the judge. If a citizen desires, he may disregard the citation; however, all citizens are asked to cooperate.

Tickets issued Saturday by regular policemen will be official, and those issued official tickets must appear before the city judge as usual.

After being sworn in, the Scouts who are taking office will be briefed in the duties of the office by the actual office-holder, and will be allowed to exercise part of the duties during the day.

Plains-Type Ground Hog Day

Since groundhogs are hard to come by on the settled-up Plains country, a fence-post ought to do just about as well for telling how much longer winter will last. If it works out about the same, there should be at least six more weeks of winter because the fence posts were making long, black shadows on Ground Hog Day.

Amarillo Manager Is Speaker for Annual Chamber of Commerce Meet

Reservations for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Feb. 15 may still be made with members of the board of directors or at the chamber office.

Featured speaker for the banquet will be Jack Lacy, executive vice president and general manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. Lacy will speak on "The Golden Years."

A graduate of the school of journalism at Colorado University, Lacy was a newspaper reporter and editor for the Walsenburg, Colo., World-Independent before professionally entering organization management. He was born in Rocky Ford, Colo.

He became manager of the La Junta, Colo., Chamber of Commerce in 1940 and was graduated from the National Institute for Commercial and Trade Organization Executives in 1942.

Lacy managed chambers of commerce in St. Joseph, Mo., and Pueblo, Colo., before coming to Texas in the first of 1957. His career of chamber of commerce management was broken by five years of public relations work for the Colorado Fuel and Iron Corporation, during which time he served as a member of the Public Relations Committee of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

For nine years Lacy served on the faculty of the Southwestern Institute for Chamber of Commerce Executives in Dallas, having served that Institute as both president and dean of faculty. He has held membership in the American Chamber of Commerce Executives for 17 years.

Lacy now serves the United States Chamber of Commerce as a member of the Government Expenditures Committee and is a member of the board of directors of Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association.

Cost of the banquet will be $2.50 per plate. The banquet will be held in the WT cafeteria.

Members of the board, from whom tickets may be purchased, are Frank Morgan, Don Standley, Jozach Byrd, J. D. Byrd, Dr. M. R. Callihan, Clarence Kincaid, Raymond Raillard, M. L. Sherrod, Riley Troth, Jerry LaGrone and Clay Cooper.

Announce Three Candidates for City Commissioners, Mayor Spot

Three candidates have been announced for the election of a mayor and two city commissioners in April.

Petitions bearing more than 100 signatures have been turned in, asking that the names of Charles Donnell, John P. Taylor and Lowell Harrison be placed on the ballot. Donnell will be running for mayor and Taylor and Harrison for commissioners.

Donnell is manager of the Varsity and Olympic Theaters, Taylor is co-owner of Taylor-Evans Farm Stores and Farmers Elevator, and Harrison is head of the department of history at West Texas State.

The petitions were signed with the understanding that the present City Commission does not desire to be re-elected. Both commissioners and the mayor have said several times that they will not be candidates.

Arrest Solves Safe Burglary

The arrest of one of the southwest's better-known safecrackers has proved to be the solution to the $1,151 burglary at Canyon High School last November, Sheriff L. S. Johnston has announced.

Tom Edward Pate, 43, has been charged with the burglary, and is being held in Potter County Jail at the present time on federal charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Sheriff Johnston said he did not know when Pate might be released to Randall County, and Pate has not been arraigned on the charge.

When Pate was arrested by an FBI agent and Randall Deputy W. C. Longest, he had more than $2,000 on his person. The officers recovered two sets of tools which can be used for burglaries. One was a heavy-duty set, and the other was a light-duty set.

Sheriff Johnston sent the light set of tools to Washington for a laboratory check to see if they were the tools used to burglarize the Canyon High safe.

Pate has been sent to prison at least five times, according to a three-page "rap sheet" furnished the sheriff by the FBI. He was sentenced to two years for theft, five years for robbery and three for burglary in Texas; two years for burglary in Arkansas and two years for burglary in Alabama.

Fathers March Against Polio

Canyon fathers will march Friday and Saturday nights for the March of Dimes as members of the Jaycees and the Future Farmers of America jointly sponsor a light-bulb sale. The proceeds will go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The light-bulbs will be sacked and sold for $2 a bag between 7 and 9 p. m. Feb. 7 and 8 in the project which is being called a Father's March. Residents who do not wish to buy the bulbs may make a contribution instead.

Money taken in for coffee Friday by the Pharmacy, the Canyon Drug and the Longhorn Cafe will be donated to the March of Dimes.

MRS. WARWICK TO HOST CANYON GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Clyde Warwick will be the hostess for members of the Canyon Garden Club in their regular meeting Thursday, Feb. 13. Dr. Leta Boswell will appear on the program.

Eagles Play Last Home Game Friday Night Against Olton Team

The last home game for Canyon High basketball will be Friday night in the high school gym with Olton meeting both the boys and girls teams. Beginning time for the girls game is 7 p. m.

The teams will finish the season Tuesday night in Dimmitt.

The Eagles defeated Dalhart 53-35 last Friday in Dalhart, switching the result from the first encounter in the district round-robin, and were defeated by Tulia 56-46 Tuesday night.

The girls were defeated 56-37 in Dalhart with Joy Rose leading Canyon scoring with 24 points against a score of 27 points by Linda Line of Dalhart.

Against Tulia, the girls lost 72-52 with Vicki Caldwell of Tulia making 32 points. Fern Ramsey of Tulia making 30 and Barbara Brown leading for Canyon with 17.

In the Dalhart game A. L. Pruett and Cecil Pitt tied for scoring honors with 14 points each. Larry Brotherton was second with nine, Dory Funk third with eight, Leonard Miller fourth with seven and Roy Harris made one.

Against Tulia, Miller topped scoring with 15 points and Pitt made 13. Pruett made five, Brotherton and Craig Hinger four each, Dana Wilbanks three and Frank Davis two.

In the first game with Olton, the Eagles won 53-39. Through Tuesday night's game, the boys have a two-win, six-loss district record and the girls have a one-win, seven loss record.

All-Army Quarterback To Help WT Coaches During Spring Drills

An All-Army quarterback and former Texas Tech star will join the West Texas State football coaching staff this month to help in spring training, Coach Clark Jarnagin has announced.

Jerry Johnson, who will receive his Army discharge Saturday, will work with backs during the spring drills. Johnson will play Canadian pro-football next fall.

He was an All-Border Conference quarterback during his playing days at Tech, and was captain of the team. After graduation from Tech in 1955, he served as backfield coach at Colorado A&M for a year prior to entering the Army. Jarnagin expects to start spring training the last of this month, so that football players will be free to enter competition for spring sports. He plans one and possibly two inter-squad games during the drill period.

City Signs Agreement for Curb And Gutter on Fourth Avenue Job

An agreement to "stand good" for the cost of installing curb and gutter where none now exists on the portion of Fourth Avenue to be widened was signed Tuesday by the Canyon City Commission.

The agreement calls for the city to put up $11,000 prior to Feb. 19, in order that widening of the street from the east city limits to 16th Street will begin as scheduled.

The city plans to call on property owners to pay for installation of curb and gutter in front of their property. When the agreement was signed Tuesday, Pioneer Estates gave the city a check for $4214.76 to pay for its portion.

The Texas National Guard has agreed to pay $1929.51 for its portion, and West Texas State will pay $2090.95 for curb and gutter on the acreage east of the campus.

Property-owners will be charged $1.65 per front foot for the construction. The price was set by the highway department and includes an estimate of $1.50 per foot cost plus 10 per cent for engineering and contingencies.

In the event that the final cost is below the $1.65 estimate, the difference will be rebated to the city for distribution to the property owners.

In the agreement, the city will pay for the curved portion of curbing at the 27th and 28th Street intersections, and Pioneer Estates will pay for the curved portion on all intersections in the addition.

The highway department will handle the cost of replacing all curb and gutter where it now exists. The amount of new curb and gutter will be 6631 feet.

Easy to Misunderstand

Perhaps you saw an item in the Amarillo Daily News recently telling that widening of Fourth Avenue in Canyon has been approved by the State Highway Commission and that the project will be financed in the next consolidated highway program starting next August.

That article gives the impression that the construction work will not begin until next August, and Fourth Avenue would be a scrawny mess all summer, what with the trees gone and debris strewn around.

The truth of the matter is this. The widening will be financed from next August's program, but will be started soon. It amounts to this: The commission is borrowing the money from next August's program and will use it now.

The widening project has been on the fire for nearly a year, with final unofficial approval coming last fall. In December, the city commission was told by the highway department that if the trees were cleared from the right of way by Jan. 15, the project would get underway beginning with the February letting date.

The trees were cleared, and the commission gave official approval to the project.

Mayor Hosea Foster was in Austin last week and was given the understanding from highway department officials that the contracts should be let at the February letting date, with construction to start soon thereafter.

Although the news item in the Amarillo paper was easy to misunderstand, it left a false impression about the time for beginning of the work. We hope that the misunderstanding can be cleared up, and we know it will be when construction machinery moves into Canyon to start work in a month or so.

So What's Wrong

So what's wrong with a little bit of prejudice?

Point out someone who is without prejudice either against an idea, person or thing, or in favor of an idea, person or thing. If you can find such a person, then you have found a nonentity who is satisfied with anything he finds and has no ambition to better himself or his surroundings.

There is no doubt in our minds that you cannot find a completely unbiased person. Even those who proclaim most loudly that they are tolerant have one glaring intolerance. They are intolerant of others who are intolerant of one thing or another.

Take this mythical unbiased person. He could have no ideals, no principles and no desires. He would live a life of squalor, shifting with the prevailing opinion of the person nearest him at that moment.

He would not fight sin, because he could not hold a belief that any act could be right or wrong. He would neither be patriotic nor unpatriotic. He could have no conscience, and his soul would be lost. He would be as wishy-washy as an ocean wave, subscribing to no laws or rules, yet being swayed by every law and rule that came along.

He would be as loose as an unmoored bell buoy in a tropical hurricane. And he would be of no use to himself or his fellow man.

We say hooray for prejudices—they're the stuff that makes man free.

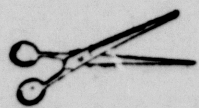

Starkweather's Success

We read the other day that Charles Starkweather killed all those people in Nebraska so that he could be noticed by the newspapers and shove all that stuff about missiles right off the front page.

He was successful for two or three days, if that is true, but Saturday morning reversed his success. Jupiter-C spread itself across the front page just as it spread itself around the earth, and poor, young Starkweather was relegated to the second page.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Bascom Nelson in the Castro County News: On this page is a run-down of the expenses incurred by athletics at Dimmitt High School. The expenses themselves are not out of line for the times—there just isn't enough income to offset the expenses.

For years now Dimmitt has needed a new stadium. There is no telling how many dollars are lost each year by the athletic department due to the inadequate seating at the field. Another costly operation is the practice of letting school children in free. Nobody doubts that their admission would be less, but the school, in effect, is paying fifty cents or so a head for a cheering section.

All this is through no fault of the administration. The cost of operating a school surely leaves little money for investing in a stadium. And the philosophy that school children should see these football games free is just as apt to be right as wrong. Still the fact remains that sports are not paying their way.

One other thought: Should sports be required to pay their own expenses? Certainly algebra is a losing proposition, money-wise. So is English, bookkeeping and home economics.

It is quite possible that school administrators, when football was first introduced to school, explained to the public they were permitting this deviation from straight academics because it was costing little or nothing, and in some cases was actually making money. Athletic departments rarely carry their own weight. But the training of student character and physical bodies is certainly worth something to the community. And school athletics often afford a priceless bond that unites the entire town more so than anything else.

Perhaps the figures show that athletics are reaching their true place in the scheme of things. It may be that the student body has as much right to free admission as the bands and cheerleaders. But whether there is money to be made or not, Dimmitt still needs a new stadium.

W. H. Graham in the State Line Tribune: We don't always dress as a tramp or a bum. When we do dress, we dress to kill.

Just take the opening of the $1 million-plus Sands Hotel in Abilene two weeks ago, for instance. We somehow managed to get a special invitation to go down and help open the thing up, which we did.

Now this was a big deal, with movie stars and stage personalities for entertainment, and lots of big brass from all over West Texas there to strut their stuff.

We weren't to be outdone, mind you, so we hauled the old tux out of the mothballs and tried it on.

Well, the big moment finally arrived, and we marched from our room to the scene of activity with a sure step and the wife on our arm, confident of making a lasting impression.

As we elbowed into the crowd, too late we discovered that everybody was out of step but us. Business suits and sport coats were everywhere, but not a tux was to be seen.

Suddenly we just knew that instead of watching Denise Darcell, the crowd was gawking at us. Instead of watching The Diamonds, and all the other important people, the people were staring at a country boy come to town in all his glory.

Then in a moment we saw a way out. A cordon of young men had marched in, bearing trays on up-ended palms. They were dressed in tuxedos, exactly as ours.

We joined the waiters as they stood at the rear of the room, and for those who asked, we pretended we could not see well and had stood for a better vantage point. We felt much more comfortable.

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald: Sign of a political year: We received a Christmas card this year from Boston, signed cozily, "Sincere best wishes, Jack."

Underneath were printed words, "Senator John F. Kennedy." Of course we are not on what you would call a buddy-buddy acquaintanceship with old Jack. Or young Jack, perhaps we should say. We do realize that he is being boosted mightily by the Democrats as a Presidential candidate, but as a matter of fact, we have never broken bread with friend Jack. Doubt if he would recognize us if we were to call upon him in Boston. But we will lay strong odds that young Jack runs for something this year.

By VERN SANFORD

Right now the Moving Hand is writing in the Book of Time what kind of hunting we'll have next fall.

Farmers and ranchers hold the key to successful wildlife harvests. If you doubt this, just remember that almost 90 per cent of the hunting area in Texas is private domain. Actually, some of this is under state ownership, but grazing rights are leased. So, after all, the farmer or the rancher is the one in charge.

Our wildlife must have its habitat, just like we must have our homes. If that habitat is not available, then wildlife suffers, whether the weather is good or bad.

Naturally the weather plays an important part in every year's wildlife crop. No more so, however, than the area that is the natural home of our birds and animals.

Added Income for Farmers
Although land owners and sportsmen have made great strides in providing proper ecology, there is a consistent uphill battle to keep the work going.

Recently biologists of the Game and Fish Commission reported on 1957 activities in planting multi-flora roses for quail cover. They had passed out to landowners almost 50,000 of these little bushes, bought with the money which you paid for the privilege of hunting.

Land owners accepted the plants and put them in the ground. Then far too many land-owners lost interest and a goodly number of the plants died.

This is just one example of what happens when someone does not care . . . or doesn't realize the income possibilities that might result from just a little attention.

However, some landowners have discovered that hunting privileges constitute a cash crop. This is particularly true in the Hill Country of Texas, home of most of our white tail deer. Unfortunately, however, some of the agricultural areas have not responded so well.

One of the most successful quail areas in Texas is a quail management project adjacent to Crooks Lake in Lamar County. Here Warden Reb Burks has brought about the planting of many multi-flora roses to supplement natural cover around the lake. Food producing plants like dove weed and lespedeza add to the inducement for quail to multiply.

A Good Club Project
This is one of the most important projects that local sportsmen's clubs can adopt. If club members will work closely with land owners, mutual understanding can be had. Landowners will soon come to realize that cotton and corn aren't the only crops he can produce.

Of course you don't have to belong to a club to talk this over with your farmer friend. Sell him on the idea of improving his range land, and providing more cover.

Almost any conservation practice that is good for wildlife is good for the land. The reverse also is true.

Shooting the 22 Rifle
First powder burning gun to be owned by most boys is a 22 rifle. A few weeks ago I was on Lake Travis, near Austin. I heard the constant popping of a 22 rifle. I ran my boat into a cove, and sure enough there was a father teaching his son how to shoot his Christmas 22.

A half-dozen cans had been placed far back against a soft bank so the bullets wouldn't ricochet. The boy was joyfully pumping lead bullets into the can, from a very neat little Noble 22 rifle.

My wife and I sat in the boat and watched them as long as we could stand it. Then we joined the dad-boy team in a discussion of the new gun.

It was a little slide action gun, made by the Noble Mfg. Co., of Haydenville, Mass. The boy had it over and we both shot it several times. Although it had been years since I had shot a 22, it came back to me quickly. Soon I was gleefully knocking those cans around. Finally my wife suggested that we move on before we burned up all the boy's ammunition.

We commented on what a wonderful thing this father was doing for his boy. That young fellow will grow up to be a good shot and a true hunter. Besides that, his dad was teaching him how to be careful. And that's mighty important.

Care in Shooting is Necessary
Speaking of 22 shooting — and caution. They should be synonymous. Although the 22 is a small gun it is a pretty powerful little rifle. It should be handled with the utmost care. Certainly it should not be shot over an open lake, or where the bullets might hit rocks and bounce off.

Although very bad practice, and which many of us are guilty of doing, with 22 rifles or pistols, is shooting at glass bottles. Broken glass is a real hazard, whether it be on the beach, the bottom of the lake or at the roadside.

Best place to shoot a 22 for plinking is in a creek bottom where you have the permission of the land owner. Also be sure there are no cows around. Farmers are funny that way. They just don't want their best milch cow perforated with bullet holes.

Handy Gadgets for Boats
Even a short cruise on the water whips up a mighty thirst. Exhilarating air does it, I guess. Anyway, that's why most boaters shove off well prepared for refreshments. Where to park that opened bottle or soft drink, or that partially full can of beer, or that glass of iced or hot coffee, hot chocolate, or what have you — poses a problem once the boat is in motion.

Aladdin Laboratories of Minneapolis have solved that one, and cleverly, too. They call it the Bar-Bouy. It's a free-swinging metal basket that holds the drink (bottle, can or glass). The basket suspends from a bracket attached to the inside of the boat. Gravity keeps the basket upright. Two mounting clips are provided so that the usefulness of the detachable Bar-Bouy is not limited to one part of the boat only.

Recent Bride

MRS. JACK COLLIER

Vows Read at Calvary Baptist Church For Sue Reynolds and Jack Collier

Nuptial vows were read in the Calvary Baptist Church at 6 p. m. Feb. 1 for Janell Sue Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Reynolds, and Edgar Jackson Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Collier of Happy.

Read by the Rev. Aaron D. Mann, pastor, the double ring ceremony was performed before an altar pleated with white satin and centered with a large arrangement of white stock and white chrysanthemums. The bouquet was flanked by seven-branched candelabra and emerald palm.

Mrs. Arlen Ruthart, pianist, played the traditional processional and recessional marches and accompanied Ronnie Smith, vocalist, as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Sharon Miller, cousin of the bride, and Carl Cox, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. James Reynolds, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and Jane Collier, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Both were identically attired in dresses of Copenhagen blue velvet and carried a bouquet of pink roses, cascade style.

Best man was Gene Collier, cousin of the groom, and James Reynolds, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Ushers were Jerry Reynolds, brother of the bride, Lloyd Mann, Gerald Free and David Hawkins.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with a pleated interest in back that terminated in a chapel train. The lace jacket, styled with a stand-up collar, had long sleeves that came to a point just above the wrist. The shoulder length veil was fastened to the bridal hat with seed pearls.

A reception following the ceremony was held in Fellowship Hall of the church.

The serving table was laid with white lace cloth over Copenhagen blue and was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped by bride and groom figures, blue birds and wedding bells and flanked by double crystal candleholders. The bride's bouquet was also used on the table.

Jane Collier poured the punch and Mrs. Frances Cox, sister of the bride, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Gene Collier, cousin of the groom, registered the guests.

For the brief wedding trip, the bride wore a black suit with red accessories. After Feb. 5, the couple will be at home in quarters on the Laredo Air Force Base at Laredo, where Collier is stationed.

A graduate of Canyon High School, the bride was a member of the high school band for four years. She is a freshman at West Texas State College. Collier enlisted in the Air Force after his graduation from Happy High School.

One of the few women in the business of teaching others how to drive an automobile lives in California. She stated recently that women are easier to teach than men, but men make better drivers. It's the male's self-confidence, she added, that makes him better on decisions. The woman, on the other hand, believes her wish is parent to the deed — she signals a left turn as she makes it. Her theory seems to be that all on-coming traffic will sit down on its haunches and wait for her to execute the impossible; i.e., turn into a busy lane of traffic at will.

We've never taught women how to drive; in fact, some folks question that we ever learned ourselves. However, we'd say it isn't woman's lack of self-confidence that cuts down on her efficiency — she has plenty. It's her sincere belief that her own time is more important than anything else in the world.

Not long ago, the spouse and I, a little late, were trying to park near a public building where he was to make a talk. We found an 'almost-place' on the corner across the street, but it was too short for our small sedan. He hesitated, measured with his eye, and drove around the block to find another. As we got out and hastened toward the meeting place, we heard a "wham" across the street.

A portly woman, driving a large car under full sail, had decided to 'make-do' with the spot we had rejected. By the simple device of pushing, she had shoved two cars down enough to get hers in, leaving the center one hopelessly blocked in. As she dismounted, rearranging her fur stole, the spouse muttered softly, "Women drivers!"

For once, we had no comeback.

Kuehler Makes Pie For 4-H Club Girls

Meeting with Carolyn Campbell Jan. 25, the Highland 4-H Club saw a demonstration on making cherry pies by Alby Kuehler, Randall County 4-H girl who attended the National 4-H Congress in Chicago last December.

The club girls also filled out their yearbooks for this year and Mrs. L. T. Campbell, adult leader, outlined the year's activities. Linda Podzemny led the group in songs and games.

Three new members were welcomed into the club. They were Louise and Judy Bertrand and Cindy Gruner.

The hostess served fruit pie for refreshment.

Happy

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Why is it that — on one of those rare occasions when I get a shine — somebody steps on my foot in an elevator within 15 minutes afterward?

The first time I was ever on the air was in Austin in 1940. I was just back from Hollywood where I had helped to write M-G-M's "Boom Town."

Charles E. Green, editor of the American Statesman, invited me to appear on his radio program.

When I went into the studio, I was greeted by Green and by Neal Douglass, veteran press photographer (whom I had known for years) and possessor of one of the most tremendous laughs you ever heard. The signal was given that we were on the air and after Green had said a few words to the listeners, he remarked, "Boyce House is a visitor tonight. I wonder if I could prevail on Boyce to say a few words?"

At this, Douglass let out a terrific roar of laughter, the idea that anyone would have any trouble getting me to talk striking him as tremendously amusing.

Afterward Green said, "When I told mutual friends that I was going to have you on my fifteen-minute program, they offered odds of six to one that I couldn't get you to quit in fifteen minutes — but nobody would take the bet." Friends, indeed!

When I was a boy, there was a saying that, if sunflowers grew around a place, it was "healthy."

The expression, "He has a good head on his shoulders" caused a columnist to ask, "Where else would a man have his head except upon his shoulders?"

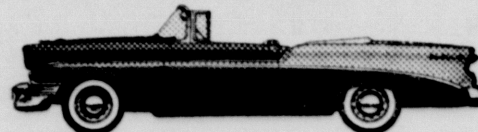

I would say, on his neck — unless he happens to be a heavy-weight wrestler.

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

From the Panhandle to the Valley, a good, safe topic for a rousing speech right now is "The Tidelands — They're All Ours."

Texans haven't been stirred up on this issue since 1953. That was the year Congress passed the Submerged Lands Act which recognized the coastal states' ownership of off-shore lands to their "historic boundaries."

Texas won title to land three leagues (10 1/2 miles) from shore in its independence treaty with Mexico. Texans, at least, were convinced, this was the "historic boundary." Hence, the state began operating in the three-league territory, leasing tracts to oil, gas and sulphur companies to gain money for the public school fund.

Now the fat's in the fire again. Last year outgoing U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell filed suit in the U. S. Supreme Court contesting Texas' claim to more than three miles of tidelands. Other 7 1/2 miles, he said, belong to the federal government.

Of this claim, Texas officials have this to say:

AATY. GEN. WILL WILSON: "It was Louisiana who knocked over the coffee pot."

Things were going along fine after passage of the 1953 law, explained Wilson, until Louisianians (limited to three miles of tidelands) decided that if Texans could have three leagues, so should they. Louisiana filed suit for the extra land. Federal government replied that "no state" owned more than three miles out.

"This," observed Wilson, "struck Texas in a tender spot."

But neither Louisiana nor other coastal states have the same sort of case as Texas, he emphasized. At the time Louisiana entered the Union, the commonly accepted boundary of a country was the distance a cannon could fire from shore — or three miles.

Texas, however, said Wilson, won right to 3 leagues in 1836 War for Independence, and U. S. officials recognized this when the state entered the Union. Today the value of the contested lands is estimated at $500,000,000. Ruefully, Wilson noted he's been allotted only one hour before the court to argue for it.

LAND COMM. EARL RUDDER: If U. S. court knocks down Texas' claim to the 10 1/2-mile shoreline, then "Russia, Mexico or anybody else can claim it."

Rudder took note of reported discussion among Mexican attorneys. Their view: If Texas did not get title to the territory from Mexico in 1836, then Mexico still owns it.

Urging that the title not be clouded, Rudder pointed out that the land is not only valuable for its minerals, but vital to defense.

GOV. PRICE DANIEL: "This lawsuit is another step in the process of chipping away the authority of the states. It seeks not only to repudiate solemn treaties by which Texas entered the Union, but to destroy the legislative intent of Congress."

"The President has by every public act acknowledged this boundary. Yet his own attorney general has sued . . ."

Governor Daniel has expressed the belief that Brownell, who filed the Texas suit on his last day as attorney general, acted out of pure spite.

Ready for Business

A new state board has opened shop. It's business: to lend money for dams and reservoirs to hold some of the water that has been rushing wastefully into the Gulf.

Water Development Board instructed its executive secretary to notify some 1,000 cities and water districts that it's ready to start considering applications for funds. Board can lend up to one-third the cost (with $5,000,000 limit) of a water conservation project.

Newly organized Development Board met jointly with an older group, the State Board of Water Engineers. Members of the two boards promised to work harmoniously with no trespassing on each other's territory. Development Board will pass on the legal and financial angles of a proposed project; Board of Water Engineers will study from the engineering viewpoint.

New "Traffic Director"

Brad H. Smith, Rio Grande Valley newsman, and past president of the Texas Press Association, becomes Texas' first state traffic safety director on Feb. 1.

Governor Daniel said that Smith will spearhead one of the most intensive traffic safety campaigns in the state's history. Daniel has made war on road deaths one of the prime goals of his administration.

Smith will work with the Texas Traffic Safety Council created by the Legislature last spring to coordinate the safety activities of state agencies.

He has been doing volunteer safety work for 18 years.

"Weakest Link"

Bearing on the same problem, speakers at a traffic courts conference in Austin said the courts must command respect for the law.

Traffic courts conducted by laymen or part-time judges in ill-housed courtrooms may be partly responsible for the casual attitude many have toward traffic offenses, said one speaker. Such courts, it was charged, are the "weakest link in the traffic enforcement chain."

Small Fry Not Wanted

Texas Board of Insurance has problem of deciding whether to grant permission to charge lower rates to casualty companies which avoid the "little business."

Five companies are requesting the special rates. They said they plan to insure only more expensive homes. Loss ratios are higher in the $5,000 and under bracket, they explained, and cost of handling offsets commissions.

Board recognized this, but asked, "Who is going to take care of the $5,000 home owner?"

Credit Ruling Contested

An Amarillo insurance firm has filed suit to prevent new, lower credit insurance rules from going into effect March 1.

State Board of Insurance had issued an order that would bring an estimated 50 per cent slash in credit insurance charges.

Attorneys for Cosmo Life Insurance Co. contend the Board exceeded its authority. Credit insurers say the order would wreck their business.

Numerous state officials had urged the change on the premise that excessive insurance charges were being used as a means to charge borrowers exorbitant rates.

BETTER BE GOOD

Selectee: "They can't make me fight."

Draft Board: "Maybe not — but they can take you where the fight is and let you use your own judgment."

Raymond Haddock Gains Promotion To Cadet Colonel in WT ROTC Corps

Raymond Haddock, senior chemistry major from Canyon, has been appointed a Cadet Colonel to command West Texas State College's Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit.

Lt. Col. Edward L. Lindsey, professor of military science and tactics, announced Haddock's appointment to succeed Don Bauer of Tulia. Bauer completed work on his B.S. degree and has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve.

Bauer will attend an officers' basic course of training at Fort Benning, Ga., and from that post will receive a permanent assignment through the Infantry Branch. He was commander for the first semester of WT's "Battle Group," formerly called "Regiment."

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bauer of Tulia, Bauer was a speech major at WT. He was a member of Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity, and Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity. A "Distinguished Military Student," Bauer was a member of the Association of the United States Army. He will receive a Regular Army commission at Fort Benning.

Haddock, also a "Distinguished Military Student," received trophies as the outstanding sophomore and junior military student. He is a member of Alpha Chi, national honor society, and was named to represent WT in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Haddock of Canyon. He is assistant scoutmaster of Troop 66.

Students, Faculty Appear in ALT

A number of Canyon and West Texas State College students and faculty members have roles in the Amarillo Little Theatre production of "Candida," which is showing this week through Saturday at the theatre in Wolfen Village.

The George Bernard Shaw comedy is being directed by Mrs. Margaret Echols Moore, and is staged by Oma Link Rowley, former WT faculty members. Three former West Texans are assisting. They are Mary Harrison, assistant director; Jerry Williams, stage manager; and Pat Starr Hall, property manager.

William A. Moore and Dr. Wendell Cain, associate professors of speech, have two of the play's lead roles. Moore plays the Rev. Morrell, and Dr. Cain appears in the comedy role of Mr. Burgess.

Mrs. Jean Goff, wife of WT government instructor, John S. Goff, plays the role of Miss Prosperine Garnett, and Eddie Thomas, WT student from Amarillo, appears as Marchbanks.

The play continues through Saturday night, and curtain time is 8:15 p. m.

"I Cut 2,190 Tons of Ensilage From 104 Acres of Maize"

Leo Bezner, Bushland, Tex., says: "I put down 80 pounds of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia pre-plant on 104 acres of irrigated maize land. I cut 2,190 tons of ensilage, or slightly more than 21 tons per acre. I use Phillips 66 Ammonia to help increase yields on all my cash crops."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that the 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them to get more profit per acre, through higher yields and lower production costs.

They have found that, by using Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, they get more cotton that grades out higher at the gin; yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased; more marketable vegetables are harvested, and profits on wheat are increased through better forage, and higher yields of grain.

Guarding Tomorrow's Freedom

How to maintain a lasting peace . . . how to preserve full employment . . . how to ward off recession . . . how to keep our high standard of living. Those are problems which continually face the Government of our country.

Tomorrow they may blaze into issues that must be solved by the factions and interests that make up our democracy. Each of these factions and interests will demand to be heard — and they will be heard.

The press of America will report and comment on what each and every party to an issue has to say. The public will know what is going on.

It is only thus that the best interests of America can be served over and above the interests of any one faction or any limited-interest group.

This vital function can be performed only by a press that is free to write and free to publish the story of national issues, unfettered by dictation from any source.

Today's freedoms can be secured and tomorrow's freedoms guarded only by a press that owes allegiance to no ogre of tyranny bent upon shaping our destiny to suit its own ends.

If the press of America is, in a real sense, to remain the guardian of our future, we must preserve the freedom it possesses today.

Opera Workshop Picks Broadway Musical for February Production

West Texas State College's Opera Workshop this year will turn from light opera to a Broadway musical production, "Girl Crazy," by George and Ira Gershwin, according to Royal Brantley, workshop director. The musical, which enjoyed high popularity for years on Broadway, and which was recently revived in a television production with Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney, will be presented two days, Feb. 20-21, in WT's Education auditorium.

Major roles in the show have been cast, and parts are being read for additional members of the cast. An orchestra and chorus will assist. William A. Moore and Margaret Echols Moore will be stage directors, and Dr. Emilio Caballero will be art director and chief designer.

The role of Kate Fothergill, which brought Ethel Merman lasting success, will be played by Dobra Devenport, Canyon freshman. Kate is a typical Barbary Coast dance hall singer.

Dannie Churchill, a bad kid from the East, sent out West, is to be played by Tommy Culppepper of Canyon, and Molly, the "true-blue Western girl," will be portrayed by Jane Jordan. Roy Lowe, Amarillo senior, will have the comedy role of the New York taxi driver who brings Dannie west.

Dan Stallings, Pampa graduate, appears as the wandering, worthless gambler, Slick Fothergill. Kate's husband, Grace Barber of Lefors, takes the role of Patsy, a New York telephone girl who chases the taxi driver with matrimony in mind. Bill McGowan of Borger, will be Lank, the sheriff who has gambling interests on the side.

WT's Opera Workshop, organized in 1951, has produced shows ranging from the classic operas, such as last year's "Bastienne and Bastienne" by Mozart and Pergolesi's "Music Master," to the contemporary "Singin' Billy," "Gianni Schicchi" and "The Mighty Casey."

This year marks the first venture into modern musical comedy.

NEWS LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

More About Sputnik

On Jan. 24, two subcommittees of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce met in joint session to receive testimony concerning the National Science Foundation. The subcommittees were "Transportation and Communications" and "Health and Science."

The first witnesses were Dr. Alan T. Waterman, Director, National Science Foundation; Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, Chairman, National Science Board, National Science Foundation; President, National Academy of Sciences; and President, Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Also appearing was Dr. Paul M. Gross, Vice Chairman, National Science Board; and Chairman of the Executive Committee, National Science Foundation; and Vice President and Dean of Duke University.

At the first meeting Dr. Waterman testified that on Monday before the first Russian satellite was launched on Friday, two Russian scientists attending a meeting of the National Academy of Sciences on rockets and satellites, held in Washington, D. C., stated that Russia was on the eve of launching a satellite and placing it in orbit. This statement was made in Russian and was translated into English and other languages.

The translation into English at the time was a rather loose translation and indicated the Russians were on the verge of placing a satellite in orbit in the near future. This indication prompted questions as to a specific date on which Russia expected to accomplish this. No satisfactory answers were given as to a date.

This, of course, disturbed the scientists who actually had been alarmed as far back as June, 1957. However, no one seemed to take the American scientists seriously. One of the witnesses before the Wayside school enjoyed Wednesday evening at the Playmoor skating rink in Amarillo.

Mrs. Bernice Hamblen and Mrs. Isabelle Kennedy have enrolled in Draughts Business College in Amarillo and will take a correspondence course by mail.

Mrs. L. M. Harris of Amarillo has recently visited her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hamblen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Schrib, Nancy and Jimmie attended the high school concert at Canyon Thursday night. Patsy Schrib had a part in the concert.

The A. L. Clayton Jr. family of near Hart visited in the parental A. L. Clayton home Thursday.

Harrison Speaks in Amarillo, Perryton

Dr. Lowell H. Harrison, professor and head of the history department at West Texas State College, will speak Monday and Tuesday to groups in Amarillo and Perryton.

He will speak on "Our Goodly Heritage" to the Amarillo Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Monday at 2:30 p. m.

Dr. Harrison will be guest night speaker for Perryton Branch of the American Association of University Women, at the group's annual banquet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. His topic, titled, "I Refuse to Testify," will deal with the Fifth Amendment.

Committee was asked why the statements of the scientists concerning the anticipated Russian launching were not taken more seriously.

The witness, I believe it was Dr. Bronk, replied in effect that this was not the only type of statement on which many people failed to take scientists seriously.

It is important to note that this information was not suppressed, was not secret, but was public information at the time it was made; to wit, on the Monday preceding the Friday on which the Russian satellite was launched and placed in orbit. It was indicated by Dr. Waterman that the Russian scientists at the time also pointed out the estimated course on which the satellite would be in orbit and the wave lengths on which radio signals would be beamed to the earth.

He also pointed out that the wave lengths on which the radio beams were broadcast from Sputnik I were not the same as those stated by the Russian scientists. However, he stipulated that this was not a breach of faith in the general understanding concerning the cooperation between the several nations during the International Geophysical Year, because Russia did notify this country of a change in the wave length.

There is much more to the story which I will try to tell later, but I give you this brief summary of a part of this testimony now, because I think it points out the tragic lack of interest on the part of this nation with relation to scientific pursuits.

Television

The subscription television hearings have produced some very interesting testimony. This situation is actually a battle between two giants of the television industry. Under these circumstances, it should have been expected that almost every possible statistic concerning this business would be utilized. Although television is a relatively new industry and unquestionably in its infancy, the complete acceptance of this medium by the American public is so clearly evidenced by the following statistics produced at this hearing:

"In the Northeast states, for example, the average television family watches television 5 hours and 8 minutes a day, while in the South the average viewing time is 5 hours and 6 minutes. On the Pacific Coast the average viewing time is 4 hours and 47 minutes. Families in small cities watch television for an average of 5 hours and 4 minutes a day; families in the largest cities, 5 hours and 15 minutes a day; and rural families for 5 hours and 1 minute a day.

Those with incomes over $5,000 watch 5 hours and 2 minutes a day; those with $4,000 to $5,000—the average U. S. group in terms of expendable income—watch 5 hours and 14 minutes a day; and those with incomes under $4,000 watch 5 hours and 58 minutes a day. Families with a college background look at television for 4 hours and 56 minutes; those with a high school background for 5 hours and 21 minutes; and those with a grade school background for 5 hours and 2 minutes."

No one was able to explain why the South watches television 2 minutes a day less than the people in the Northeast nor why the Pacific Coast, where so many of the television shows are originated, utilized their sets some 15 to 17 minutes a day less than other parts of the country. The other statistics are just as mysterious, but I presume that before these hearings are concluded we will have a full treatment of statistics on statistics.

Although there has been much alarm and propaganda spread throughout this country which has caused some people to fear that there is an imminent danger of the American people losing their right to see television shows, I can assure you with great confidence that you can quell those fears. The spectrum through which the television waves must pass between the broadcasting station and receiving set belongs to the people of the United States.

Judge Says Tougher Punishment For Juveniles Not the Answer

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

In the face of shocking crimes and a wave of vandalism throughout the country involving children, the cry has gone up for "tougher" laws to punish teen-age delinquents.

Repeal of the indeterminate sentence law for juveniles has been advocated and the lowering of the age limits from 17 to 14 recommended so as to subject those 14 and over to the same punishment as adults. Several "get tougher" bills were introduced in the last Texas legislature.

But treating young offenders like criminals isn't the answer. It has been tried before and it has failed. Less than 150 years ago all children over 7 were held responsible for their crimes. Severe punishment, or, more aptly, retaliation, was the established pattern for a good many centuries.

Children in Texas were subject to the death penalty until 1856; and until 1907 children could be confined in the Texas penitentiary. As late as 1814 three boys in England, 8, 9 and 11 years old, were hanged for the theft of a pair of shoes.

Classifying youngsters as criminals and imprisoning them won't do anything except complete their education as criminals. They learn additional techniques in crime and additional criminal attitudes from older or more hardened boys or men.

In comparing boys who had been officially whipped with those who had been put on probation, a royal investigating commission in England recently found that far more of those whipped became repeaters, that their companions regarded them as heroes. In two industrial centers, 440 children out of 574 who had been whipped were in court again within two years.

In this country likewise "getting tough"—different from being firm—has failed. One parish priest who has worked in an underprivileged area of Denver had this to say to the Senate Committee investigating juvenile delinquency:

"Getting tough with the kids... is the worst thing you can do... A lot of them come from rough families and rough neighborhoods. They are used to brutality."

Those who have studied the causes of delinquency and worked with teen-age offenders recommend probation in the child's home where ever possible. This means more supervision—and calls for more supervisors. When probation is not advisable the delinquents should be put in an institution where there will be treatment and a program of education and rehabilitation.

Finally, in the home what is the place of punishment? The Senate Committee investigating delinquency had this to say:

"The critical point seems to be whether the disciplinary measures (in the home) are consistent or not, whether discipline is cruel or firm and kindly, and—most important—whether it is given by a parent who really loves the child or one who is indifferent or hostile to the youngster."

In the home, as elsewhere, coercion doesn't work. Punishment which tries to prevent delinquency from fear alone is not the answer.

There must be a stronger reason than fear for good behavior. Otherwise as soon as the parent—or policeman—is absent, the child will go and sin some more.

WT Historical Tops on KVII-TV

Highlights in the history of West Texas State College will be discussed by President Emeritus J. A. Hill on Amarillo's KVII-TV Monday at 3 p. m., when Dr. Crannell Tolliver presents "Meet the Prof."

The head of the speech department presents the program each week on Monday as one of the daily shows presented by WT for the new television station.

Other programs during the week include the agriculture department's show on irrigation in the Panhandle on Thursday at 3 p. m., and the International Sunday School Lesson, taught by Dean Walter H. Juniper on Friday at 3 p. m.

The government department's panel, conducted by Richard A. Steele, will be shown Sunday at 4 p. m., and President James P. Cornette continues his series, "Among My Books," at 4:30 p. m. Sunday. Dr. Cornette will talk on the works and life of Emily Dickinson this Sunday.

On Tuesday, the music department will present its weekly program, and on Wednesday, the "Living Theatre" will be given by the WT speech department. Conducted by Robert L. Antrim, the show will feature a drama review by Carol Gray of Amarillo, a book review by Eddie Thomas of Amarillo, and a record review by Martha Hinson of Amarillo.

Antrim will spotlight Debra Devendorf of Canyon, and William A. Moore will begin a series on the staging and blocking of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice."

must go along with punishment. To the children for whom these are not available, society must provide more probation officers with skill and wisdom, additional training school supervisory officials and more training school space.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Trees for windbreak planting may be obtained by district co-operators from two local sources. The Friona Nursery has potted Red Cedar and Arizona Cypress one year old at 30 cents per tree. The Kress Nursery is offering their trees at the same price as last year, which is about 30 cents per tree. Both nurseries have a large selection of strong, vigorous trees.

The nurseries would like to have the orders for these trees as soon as possible. They expect to make delivery of these trees from June 1 to June 10. These deliveries are F.O.B. at the nursery from whence ordered.

If you would like to have a windbreak you should contact the Soil Conservation Service technicians and they will assist you in the location and spacing as well as the kinds of trees to put out. You can also use trees for a wildlife area and protect the birds and the land.

Wildlife areas can be planned on odd pieces of land on land that is gullied and washing away. The trees will soon help to establish a cover and will eliminate wind erosion as well as water erosion. These windbreaks and wildlife areas help nature keep everything in balance. Pheasants and quail can be raised and kept safely in these areas.

Grass and weed seeds with a little additional grain will keep a large flock of birds.

Sheriff Distributes Copies of Hoover's Advice to Teen-Agers

A reprint of an article by J. Edgar Hoover warning teenagers against strangers is being distributed to school children in Randall County by Sheriff L. S. Johnston. The article gives ten rules that Hoover says every parent should make sure his youngster knows. The article says:

"I've spent 40 years, my whole career, dealing with the seamy side of life—robbery, kidnapping, gangsterism and murder. It is possible that the nation's youngsters think of me, when they think of me at all, as a pretty stern sort of person.

"Perhaps that's just as well, for I want to give the young people of America some friendly, fatherly advice, and I would like them to take it very seriously.

"The advice has to do with these sex-crime headlines in the newspapers today. These headlines worry everyone with any decency—they worry your parents and they worry you. And they certainly worry me.

"So I've worked up a list of ten 'Teen-Age Tips' that I feel will help young people to steer clear of danger. When you look them over you may say that some of them are only common sense. But remember that the common-sense rule is often the one we're apt to forget.

"You'll also note that some of the tips apply only to girls. But remember again, every boy has a sister or girl friend who needs his protection and advice, so he should study the whole list, too.

"In any case, these are the ten rules that, in my judgment and experience, are the most important.

"1. If any stranger—or even a slight acquaintance—makes improper advances, tell your parents immediately.

"Young people are too often kind-hearted about such things—they dislike the idea of getting an offender into 'trouble.' Just remember that if you don't report him, he'll probably get into worse trouble later on—to say nothing of the harm he may cause.

"2. If you know of any pornographic pictures or literature being passed around, notify your parents immediately.

"Obscene reading matter is a favorite habit of the degenerate. If the authorities can run down the source and trace the material, they may be able to rid the community of danger before it starts.

"3. Know your date! Don't go out on 'blind dates' unless another couple is along—and even then be cautious.

"If someone phones and says he's a friend of Jack Jones, tell him you'll be glad to have Jack Jones introduce him.

"4. Stay out of 'Lovers' Lane.' It's natural to want to be alone with your date, but experience shows that 'Lovers' Lanes' are favorite haunts of sex criminals.

"5. Don't wander away alone from the crowd at picnics and outings. Stay within calling distance.

"Sex criminals are easily attracted to any group of young people, and given an opportunity they can strike with frightening speed.

"6. Don't ask for trouble—dress sensibly.

"Provocative clothing may attract the attention of a potential sex criminal.

"7. Be civil to strangers who ask directions, but never go part way with them.

"The 'directions' trick is a favorite among sex criminals. They count on the natural helpfulness of young people.

"8. Be very careful about accepting work from a stranger.

"This is another insidious dodge. Always make sure that the person is a respectable businessman.

"9. Don't go about the house half-dressed.

"This may seem harmless, but it's an invitation to 'Peeping Toms'—who may later become something more dangerous.

"10. Never, never hitchhike! And never, never pick a hitchhiker up!"
